Khrushchev Says U.S. Pilot Alive, May Be Tried As Spy

Reports Airman Admitted Being On CIA Mission

Charges He Took Photos of Bases, Industrial Plants

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev disclosed today that the pilot of the American plane shot down on May Day is alive in Moscow and might be tried as a spy.

The Soviet Premier told deputies of the Supreme Soviet, the Parliament, that the pilot had confessed he was flying across the Soviet Union on a spy mission, photographing Soviet airfields and industrial enterprises.

Khrushchev said he had delayed announcing the capture of the pilot in order to expose "fabrications" in the official American version of the incident.

Khrushchev Identifies Pilot

Khrushchev identified the pilot as Francis Gerry Powers, 30, and said he was a former Air Force pilot who had joined the Central Intelligence Agency in 1956.

Suggesting that a news conference might be organized to display the apparatus used for the alleged weather survey Khrushchev added: "I also thought it would be right to put the pilot on trial."

Though the Americans had claimed the plane was unarmed, the Premier went on, the pilot had been supplied with a noiseless pistol.

Soviet money and French gold francs also were found in his possession, Khrushchev said, adding: "What were these francs for—to gain altitude?"

En Route To Norway

The Premier told the Soviet Parliament that the plane was shot down near Sverdlovsk in the Urals while en route from an American base in Pakistan to a base in Norway.

It was intended, he said, to photograph the Ural region, Archangel and Murmansk.

Khrushchev identified the pilot as Francis Gerry Powers, 30, and said Powers had told Soviet interrogators he had been instructed not to surrender to the Soviets and had been given a poison kit in order to commit suicide if captured.

Khrushchev said he had deliberately withheld some details of the incident when he addressed the Parliament earlier this week.

He described the official U. S. explanation that a weather research plane had strayed on a peaceful mission as a fabrication.

"American official statements on the subject were complete fabrications, based on the assumption that if the aircraft had been shot down, the pilot must have died," said Khrushchev.

Moscow radio broadcast his speech.

Had Identified Pilot

(The U. S. State Department had identified the pilot of the missing plane as Francis G. Powers, 30, of Pound, Va., a civilian test pilot for the Lockheed Aircraft Corp.)

Khrushchev said the plane was shot down from a height of 20,000 meters and added: "If they fly higher we will still get them."

He said that Powers claimed that until 1956 he was in the American Air Force earning $700 a month. He said the pilot admitted that he then went to work for what the Premier called an "American spy organization" for a salary of $2,500 a month.

"That's the way capitalists buy human beings," Khrushchev said. The Premier showed the cheering deputies a film which he said had been taken from the plane and developed here.

Khrushchev led into his story of the confession by saying:

"Now I am going to tell you a secret. I did not tell you when I first reported the story that we had parts of the plane and that we also have the pilot who is alive and kicking."

"We did that on purpose, because if we gave all that information another explanation (by

Bee Won By Massillon Boy 12

Jeanne Klemann of United School Is Runnerup

A confident 12-year-old Massillon youngster breezed his way to the championship of the Regional Spelling Bee at Canton Timken Vocational High School Friday night.

The 7th grader from Longfellow Junior High School, James Roseman, clinched the title on the 253rd word used in the contest which lasted better than two and one half hours.

Chasing him to the finish and the last contestant to fall by the wayside from a starting group of 38 was Columbiana County's Jeanne Klemann, a 13-year-old 8th grader at United Local and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Klemann of Guilford Lake.

MISS KLEMMANN lost the title in the 21st round when she began spelling "virulent" with a "ve". Young Roseman spelled the word correctly and clinched the championship with the correct spelling of "trite."

The champ and the runner-up were the only contestants remaining after round 14 when third place finisher, Miss Marilyn Crowe, a 13-year-old 8th grader from Stark North Industry tried to spell "noxious" with a "k".

Although the Bee lasted as long as it did things didn't seem so slow with five pupils capitulating in the first round. By the end of the third round exactly half of the field remained, including Columbiana's Kenneth Huk, and Wellsville's Linda Ferguson.

The other Columbiana County entrants Susan Shepherd of East Liverpool St. Aloisius, Sally Bennett of East Liverpool LaCroft, and Catherine Jones of East Liverpool

SHE WORE NO. 13 BUT FINISHED SECOND — Jeanne Klemann, 13, of United Local School near Hanover, is congratulated by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Klemann of Guilford Lake, after she won the runnerup title in the regional Spelling Bee at Canton Friday night. James Roseman, 12, of Massillon, won the event and will enter the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D.C., the first week of June. Jeanne was awarded a portable typewriter.

Firm Foreign Policy Called For by Johnson

1,300 Persons at Democratic Dinner In East Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—A firm foreign policy and a more adequate preparedness program were called for Friday night by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) in addressing the eighth annual Columbiana County Jefferson Jackson Day Dinner.

Speaking before some 1,300 persons at Beaver Local High School, the Senate majority leader predicted the election of "a progressive, Democratic president which will usher in a new age of leadership," and the return of another Democratic Congress in Washington.

He listed foreign policy, the trade program, preparedness and domestic affairs as four things on which the next administration must take positive action.

He said this country's foreign policy must be firm and "not just a reaction to Khrushchev." He also called for a revision of foreign aid, which he said is being wasted in some places.

Speaking on preparedness, Johnson denounced Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev's tirade at the United States after disclosure this week that an American plane had been shot down over Russian territory. He said it would have been better if Russia had discussed the problem openly and logically.

The senator said he did not want to appear to be saber-rattling. "But unless we can bring people together we must be prepared to bury the communists so deep, face down, that the deeper they dig the loser they will be to their eternal resting place."

He called for adequate air alert, missile strength and bomber power "to let everyone know we are prepared."

Of the trade program, Johnson said this country's exports are decreasing and its imports are increasing.

"Reciprocal trade is a good thing, but no good if it is a one-way street," he said.

Discussing the domestic program for the aged, he also called for an expansion of social security benefits.

Another challenge, he said, is to "help our children get the education they need—the schools and teachers they need—if they are to make the most of the marvelous years ahead of us."

At a news conference prior to the dinner, Johnson, a candidate for the presidential nomination, sidestepped a question as to whether he would accept the vice presidential nomination.

He replied by saying he would be presumptuous in commenting on something that "has not been offered me."

Strong Ohio Backing
As to the presidential nomination, Congressman Wayne L. Hays at whose invitation Johnson came here to speak, told newsmen the senator would have strong backing in Ohio if Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts failed to get the nomination. All of Ohio's delegates

Unofficial Census Count Is 13,797

Salem Population Shows Increase

Salem's 1960 population — unofficially — is 13,797, according to the Census Bureau office.

This is a gain of 8.2 per cent over the 1950 census figure of 12,754. It was reported to Mayor Dean B. Cranmer today by Howard Borden of Steubenville, district supervisor of the 1960 census.

Official tabulations are not quite complete, Mr. Borden indicated, but will be released when they are, he said.

Salem's population gain in the past 10 years is expected to be followed closely by an increase in the surrounding Perry Township district where considerable residential building has been noted in the past decade.

Perry Township census figures were not available, however, A Census Bureau official said, however, that the township would show an increase.

The city's new 13,797 population count is more of a gain than the 3.7 per cent limb that was noted between 1940 and 1950, Mr. Borden's statistics showed.

East Liverpool Declines

While Salem showed a gain, East Liverpool at the southern end of Columbiana County showed a decrease of 2,059. The unofficial 1960 population count for the Pottery City is 22,158.

The 1950 census count gave East Liverpool a population of 24,217. The 1960 population is down 1,397 from the total shown in 1940 and drops that city's populace to its lowest point since the 1920 census.

Judge Sets Presser Trial For May 23

CLEVELAND (AP) — William Presser, Ohio Teamsters Union head, is to go on trial May 23 in U.S. District Court on an indictment charging obstruction of justice.

Judge Paul Jones set the trial date Friday after he had overruled motions filed by Presser's attorneys, William J. Corrigan and Fred W. Garmone, who sought to set aside the indictment.

The defense attorneys alleged that the grand jury indictment constituted double jeopardy and that it failed to name an offense under the sanction of the U.S. code cited.

The government accuses Presser of tearing off part of an invoice which had been subpoenaed by the Senate Rackets Committee. The committee staff said the invoice contained names of eight persons to whom the Cleveland Teamsters Council sent $100 champagne buckets as Christmas gifts in 1955.

Presser earlier was convicted in Washington of contempt of the committee. In overruling one motion, Judge Jones said the Washington indictment charged unlawful refusal to answer a question before the committee, a different matter from the present charge.

As to the second motion, the judge said the indictment "is in greater detail and clarity than the usual return and completely informs the defendant of the precise unlawful conduct charged against him."

Timothy Feit, Charles Cook Are Victims

Truck Hits School Bus on Rt. 30; Car Hits Rt. 14 Culvert

Two area youths were killed Friday afternoon and early this morning in traffic accidents on district highways. Two other persons were injured.

Dead are: Timothy Feit, 17, of West Point.

Charles L. Cook, 20, of RD 3, Canfield.

Injured are: Thomas A. Plate, 18, of RD 1, Rogers, chest and back injuries.

Frank Woodrow, 54, of RD 1, Wellsville, bruises of the chest. Cook was dead on arrival at Salem City Hospital at 4 a.m. today after he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his sports car and crashed into a bridge abutment on Alternate Rt. 14, two and one-half miles east of Salem.

Columbiana County Coroner Dr. William Kolozsi reported that the victim apparently died of a crushed chest and internal injuries. He ruled the death accidental.

The accident occurred just inside the Mahoning County line at 2:30 a.m. The Canfield State Patrol barracks reported that Cook was alone, driving east on Rt. 14 when his car went off the left side of the highway and hit a culvert.

His car was demolished.

Truck Hits School Bus
Feit, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Feit, died at 4:35 p.m. Friday in East Liverpool City Hospital of injuries received when a pickup truck driven by Thomas Plate and an empty Beaver Local School bus operated by Frank Woodrow collided on Rt. 30, about 10 miles south of Lisbon, at 2 p.m.

State highway patrolmen of the Lisbon barracks said Feit, a passenger in Plate's truck, sustained internal injuries.

Patrolmen said Plate's northbound vehicle suddenly left the right side of the road, then swerved back across the highway into the path of the approaching bus.

Woodrow was en route to Beaver Local School to pick up children when the accident occurred, patrolmen said.

Plate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Plate, is reported in fairly good condition at East Liverpool City Hospital.

Woodrow is in satisfactory condition at East Liverpool Osteopathic Hospital.

Patrolmen are continuing their investigation.

Cook Funeral Is Monday

Cook was born Nov. 23, 1939, he was a son of Elden J. and Evelyn Feit Cook.

He was a member of the Locust Grove Baptist Church. He had attended Greenford Schools and the correspondence school of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., where he was employed as a welder.

Besides his parents, he leaves his grandparents, Mrs. Vera Rominger and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feit, all of Canfield.

Funeral service will be Monday at 1 p.m. in the Locust Grove Church, where the body will lie in state one hour prior to time of service. The Rev. Albert Linder, chaplain of Youngs-on University, will officiate.

Burial will be at Locust Grove Cemetery.

Friends may call Sunday afternoon and evening at the Woods Funeral Home in Leetonia.

Born in East Liverpool, Timothy Feit was a member of the West

U.S. Amazed at Soviet Charge

Ike Still Planning On Visit to Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials learned with amazement today of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's statement that an American pilot has been captured flying a spy mission across the Soviet Union.

The dramatic statement by Khrushchev before the Supreme Soviet seems certain to bring a further increase in tension between Moscow and Washington.

But officials still discounted the possibility that President Eisenhower would change his plans for the summit meeting or for a June visit to the Soviet Union.

State Department press officer Lincoln White had no immediate comment on the Khrushchev report. The State Department presumably wanted to get its own information direct from Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson at Moscow. Officials also clearly wanted to go over Khrushchev's account in some detail.

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter are withholding final decisions on the next U.S. move in the presumptuous maneuvering until they get a better picture from Moscow of the plane incident.

They want to see how Khrushchev follows up his statements Thursday that the plane had been shot down and today that the pilot is alive and may be tried as a spy.

Khrushchev also attacked Eisenhower for saying he might have Vice President Richard M. Nixon

Believed Hiding In Havana

Trotsky Killer Released From Mexican Prison

HAVANA (AP)—Jacques Mornard, the man who assassinated Russian revolutionary Leon Trotsky 20 years ago, was believed hiding from vengeance killers in Havana today following his release from a Mexican prison.

Freed more than months before his 20-year sentence expires Aug. 20, Mornard was spirited out of Mexico Friday to avoid a possible attempt on his life by Trotskyites bent on avenging their slain leader.

Trotsky's widow who still lives in Mexico City, said Mornard might be heading for a similar fate as her husband. Trotsky was slain at his home in exile in Mexico in the late summer of 1940. Mrs. Trotsky called Mornard a "Kremlin hatchet man."

"Mornard goes now to his reward or elimination," wry, 80-year-old Natalia Sedova Trotsky told a reporter when she learned the assassin had been whisked out of the country.

Mexican officials said Mornard had left under the name Jacques Van Dendresch accompanied by two Czech Embassy officials — Oldrich Novicky and Edward Fichs. They said the party planned to check in at Havana's Hotel Nacional.

A source at Havana's International Airport said a passenger listed as Jacques Van Dendresch, carrying a Czechoslovak passport, was seen leaving the airport.

Then the ship closed its radio to all but official messages. The Britannia was headed for the West Indies but no port of call has been announced. Most speculation favored Trinidad, which Margaret has visited before and was warmly greeted as the "calypso princess."

Others suggested the honeymooners might swing northward and call at a U.S. Gulf port such as New Orleans or the Florida coast.

The British Admiralty refused to say. Behind the princess was a wedding.

That Will Be the Day, Mother

... At long last everything that has needed doing will have been done.

All the housecleaning will have been finished. There will be no more loose ends. Everything will be painted and papered.

The mending will be done. Nothing will be left unlaundered. The dry cleaning will have been taken to the cleaners and brought back.

All the part-time chaffing will be up to schedule. No letters will need answering. There will be no overdue wedding presents to buy and send.

Every pair of shoes will be in the proper place. The shoelace supply will be up to snuff. The button box will be full, and no buttons will be missing.

Enough blue jeans, socks, shirts, dresses, coats, hats, gloves and underwear will be on hand to run the establishment for a fortnight.

There will be a fresh cake under the cover, two uncut pies, a fresh-baked ham and

No Royalty but Plenty to Discuss

Britain has been set on its ear by the marriage of Princess Margaret and the photographer, with every loyal subject of the realm taking a proprietary interest in the proceedings. It always makes the absence of royalty seem easier to bear when our cousins get into fervid discussion of the behavior of their beloved monarchy. The Windsors have no privacy.

There is plenty to discuss here, too, even though royalty is blessedly and legally absent. Rare is the day when a loyal citizen of the United States cannot wonder about something in connection with the matings, mismatings and dematings of newsworthy persons.

It gets to be fascinating in cases like the mismatching of Lucy and Desi, which has been flitting with front pages for a long time and finally made them. Here was a show business marriage that made millions feel sure there could be moments of light laughter without half trying. Here was the American image of connubialism, with settings by so-

Medical Aid Based on Right

When Secretary of Welfare Flemming lays down the administration plan for medical care for the aged in testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee, the sticking point will be the provision for discrimination based on means.

The plan will exclude from coverage persons with incomes above a specified ceiling. This will put it into conflict with the Social Security principle that all persons who contribute to any form of public security are entitled to the same benefits, regardless of means.

It will raise the question, moreover, of discrimination against persons who try to be self-supporting and discrimination for persons who may never have tried at all. One of the wry jokes of this generation has been about the plight of people with a reputation for paying their own way and therefore get nothing free, compared with the relatively carefree lot of people who have no reputation to maintain and therefore can get a great many things free.

Knotty questions of principle like this are not going to be smoothed out and answered in this session of Congress. Medical care for the aged has been thrown into the 1960 political stew for political effect.

The proposal backed by many Democrats for adding medical care to Social Security benefits had no immediate purpose, except to attract votes. The alternative proposal

Once Over

British member of Parliament declares Americans are dependent on pills. He has been checking on TV programs. The impression is justified.

Any outsider must feel certain that the medicine cabinets the backbone of American living and that life here is one capsule after another.

Strangers may have swallowed image of the vigorous rugged Americans who bit nails, fore up phone books and felt off form only when losing a tough one against the Sioux Indians.

The history of the country gives no indication Americans who survived through vitamins, toothpastes, headache remedies, breath purifiers, laxatives and bath soaps. (If he had no arrows in him he felt good.)

But the airwaves project picture of him as a pale, sickly, fearful physical wreck who is never happy when short of medicines.

Presidential state of Union message indicating the country is in good shape is followed by, "Go to your druggist now and get these pills before it is too late."

The telecasts of the battles between rugged athletes glorifying "vigor vim and perfect trim" are interrupted by a loud, "Four out of five doctors recommend, etc."

In the midst of stirring films in which red-blooded Americans stop a buffalo stampede, lick the Pawnees and brush off fire and flood the audience is told, "Yes, when you feel low there is nothing like this remarkable ten-way aid to the rundown human system."

A nerve tingling sea battle in "Victory at Sea" has to be stopped every few minutes for another map showing the thruway taken by an anti-acid tablet.

If "Samson and Delilah" reaches the airwaves, the big scene where he pulls down the temple pillars will have a before-and-after sales pitch for medical supplies "which alone provide physical fitness."

enough cold cuts, soda pop, milk and assorted beverages to withstand any contingency.

The windows will be washed and the rugs will be clean. Everything that needs polishing will gleam. There will be no more doorbells to ring, no phone calls to make, no sagging grades to bolster up and no committees with pressing business pending.

The world will be a spreading vista of serenity, punctuated with smiling faces and happy contented souls. Not a brow will be wrinkled with care, not a heart left aching. There will be, in short, no more unfinished business. Mother will have it made.

That will be the day, Mother — the Mother's Day to remember. And mark this well—that if it ever comes somebody will wonder if while you're sitting still you would mind making a costume for a pageant at school tomorrow morning... something that looks like a ferocious bear, or possibly a fairy princess and-so, costumes by so-and-so, hair tying by so-and-o and so on ad infinitum.

Here were the friendly neighbors, the automatic reconciliation, the baby in the crib, problems galore, the healing peal of laughter, confusion twice confounded and ultimately resolved into happy reminiscences to brighten old age.

Millions were grateful to Lucy and Desi for demonstrating that the sugar-coating went all the way through the pill. All was well that ended well... well...

It has ended, not well. The tapes and cinemascope of those hilarities, if they show up again, we'll look and sound odd after Lucy's testimony that the whole thing had been a "nightmare" for the last three years. The divorce has been granted. It's all over.

Say it ain't so, Lucy and Desi. It seemed so plausible at the time. There are a million husbands and wives who will not know what to think now that laughter has fled and the illusion of hilarity has been shattered.

backed by the administration is intended to offset the popular appeal of the Democratic proposal.

There is nothing wrong about using politics to get a result. The only thing wrong is to let politics use a social problem to get a political result at the expense of a social result.

The United States has a social problem arising from the cost of medical care that wipes out individual and family resources, when these are too small to cover the cost of protracted illness. It can happen to the indigent, to people of moderate means and even to people of more than ordinary means.

Steps toward a solution have been made by various plans of insurance, without government help so far. Further steps still can be taken without government help. When and if government help must be offered, it must be on a basis of right, not on a basis of means.

A scientist says civilization began 70 centuries ago. What civilization?

According to an expert a lot of men are slaves to fashion. Especially if they have wives and grown daughters.

In spite of the high costs lots of families succeed in building a happy home.

I Just Showed Him Our Profit and Loss Statement

Johnson's Advantage

By RAYMOND MOLEY

So far as I know, one very important point has been overlooked in all current speculation about the Democratic scramble for the presidential nomination.

That point, often decisive in a bitter convention battle, is floor management and strategy. In that department Sen. Lyndon Johnson, generally rated as a candidate less likely to succeed, has a great advantage. For none of the Democratic contenders has had the experience and the proved success of Johnson in parliamentary battles.

Beginning with the great decisive year 1896, there have been 32 conventions of the major parties. In 21 of these the nomination was either completely noncontested or largely predetermined.

But in 11 there was a real fight. In some of those, an underdog came to the top. That was true in the Democratic conventions of 1896, 1912, 1920, and 1932.

It was that way in the Republican conventions of 1920 and 1940. In the Republican conventions of 1896, 1912, 1936, 1944, 1948, and 1952 the man nominated had fairly stiff opposition, although he entered with either an even chance or a fair advantage.

Those Strange Names

By ED WAKIN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

The world is full of places with names that are sad, happy, humorous and too long, even names that stutter or were mistakes in the first place, according to one of the world's leading experts.

Yet wherever you look, the names are as consistent as human nature, reports Prof. Mario Pei of Columbia University.

The universal favorite is "New," which has been used to mark off the newly discovered and also to remind the settlers of home and examples run from New York, New England, New Zealand, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland to Newton, Novgorod and Villeneuve.

For laughs, you can find in your atlas such places as Double Trouble, N.J., Whynot, N.C., Igo and Ono, Calif., and Pastoutville, La.

England has Great Snoring and Middle Wallop, Bolivia has Toro-toro (bull-bull) and Haiti has Trou (hole) Germany's Irrendorf (madmen's town) recently changed its name.

For names that say the same thing more than once there are Mount Ararat (mountain twice), Ganges River (river twice) and Britain's Torpenhow Hill (hill in four different languages).

For tears, there are Worry, Drab, Great Misery Island and Civil War widows settled.

Mont Dolent in France means sorrowful mountain, Monte Disgrazia in Italy, Mount Misfortune and the Hindu Kush Mountains of India, Hindu killer.

The Kalahari Desert of southwest Africa means "those who are tormented by thirst," while France's Crevecoeur-le-Grand is big heartbreak.

For mistakes there are Yucatan and the Aleutian Islands where that's exactly what the natives say when they ask, "What are you saying?" Rio de Janeiro got its name because of a mistaken no-low senators liked him. He had no real enemies and had no positive convictions about the old Taft-T.R. conflict. No one else was in sight and so the leaders in the big states decided to nominate him.

In 1932 the in-fighting was terrific. Two ballots had been taken, with Gov. Roosevelt in a majority but still short of the necessary two-thirds. Roosevelt managers knew that once a front runner slips, he is doomed. There was a frenzied running around the Roosevelt floor-managers and political advisers who were real strategists.

IN ANOTHER BALLOT there was almost a certainty that two or three Roosevelt delegations would bolt. Many people claim credit for the master stroke: Give the vice presidential nomination to Speaker Garner and in return take the Texas and California delegations. The rest is history.

In 1860 on the first ballot Lincoln was far behind Gov. Seward of New York. Then began some of the fastest horse-trading in history. Cabinet posts were pledged for delegates. Cameron released the Pennsylvania delegation. Then Chase of Ohio added what was required.

Cameron became secretary of war and Chase secretary of the treasury. Seward was made secretary of state, although his delegation never went for Lincoln until the nomination was a certainty.

In 1952 Taft would probably have been nominated except for the bad judgment of his managers. That is well known.

In 1960 if, as is probably, Kennedy and Johnson lead with something less than a majority, the incredible capacity of Johnson to trade, cajole or threaten will come into full play, just as it has been revealed in many Senate vote since he has been majority leader.

Perhaps he will fail to win the prize himself but it would be a safe wager that no one will succeed whom he opposes and it might well be that his choice will prevail.

Who that might be is not known. But his opponents will feel the impact of a master's hand in the balloting.

The Un-Tory Tories

Conservatives Not Conservative Enough

By NORMAN MOSS

LONDON Many Britons are seeking a new word to express their feelings about the state of British politics. They might find it in the American political vocabulary. The word is "ine-tooism." Remember?

Some British Conservatives are complaining that their government is not acting conservative enough. They charge that many of its policies are watered-down Socialist ones.

These criticisms recall those leveled by die-hard Republicans at the first Eisenhower administration, after 20 years of Democratic rule and the New Deal.

The Conservatives have been in office for more than eight years, however.

The most recent attacks by rebel Conservatives have been on budgetary and colonial affairs.

THE BUDGET, in early April, was a disappointment to many. Conservatives expected it would bring some tax relief, particularly to business and the upper income bracket. They also expected it would cut government spending. They reckoned the landslide Conservative victory over the Laborites in last October's election gave the government a free hand to be as Tory as it likes.

But the budget brought no tax relief and no cuts in government spending. Instead, it produced an increase in the cigarette tax and the promise of a brake on expense account spending by businessmen.

There were rumblings of discontent, noisier among the Conservatives' supporters than the Laborite opposition.

A small group of Conservatives spoke out against the budget in Parliament. They were led by Gerald Nabarro, a self-made businessman and a flamboyantly mustached individualist.

He told the House of Commons bluntly: "I said that if the chancellor of the exchequer practiced Socialist spending and Socialist philosophies, he would end up with a Socialist budget. And that is what has happened."

He also attacked what he called "state paternalism" in industry.

In colonial affairs, the conservatives have broadly continued the Laborite policy of giving independence to colonial territories, with Laborite approval (Cyprus was a bitterly argued exception). Recently, Prime Minister Macmillan ended a tour of Africa hailing the "wind of change" sweeping across the continent.

This time, the chief Tory critic was not a self-made businessman but an old-style aristocrat and long-time champion of British imperial prestige, Lord Salisbury.

Lord Salisbury had been a member of Macmillan's Cabinet but resigned over the decision to quit Cyprus. He warned recently in the House of Lords against giving freedom to countries not yet ready for it and weakening Britain's world position, though he conceded the principle of ultimate self-determination.

A FEW DAYS AGO, a new daily newspaper, called simply "The New Daily," has been started in Britain by a group of people who feel the government is not Tory enough. It is pledged to defend free enterprise to the death. And it is pledged to attack state interference in industry and current labor union practices. It does not seem a serious competitor to existing newspapers.

Its cause is likely to win support but not power. The Conservative party leadership is in the hands of men who reject the old-style conservatism of the true-blues and even that of the 100 per cent free enterpriser, as being out of date.

After the last election, Macmillan put the key posts of his government in the hands of modern-minded men: R. A. Butler, a Conservative social reformer, the home secretary; Ian McLeod, the colonial secretary; and Derek Heathcoat-Amory, the chancellor of the exchequer.

A Laborite commentator explained the situation with a jibe: "Macmillan has found that the British people will accept a Tory government as long as it doesn't behave like one."

To which a government supporter would reply, "From now on, this is the way a Tory government behaves."

Queen for a Day

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Mother is queen for a day Sunday.

In a world of dispensable men, she remains the indispensable woman.

The role of motherhood has fascinated the sages and scientists of the ages, and they have had many wise and witty—and sometimes snide—things to say about it.

Such as:

"He is bare of news who speaks ill of his mother"—Irish proverb.

"God could not be everywhere, so he made mothers"—Yiddish proverb.

"Despise not thy mother when she is old"—Old Testament.

"Mother knows best"—Edna Ferber.

"The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world"—W. R. Wallace.

"You may deduct $600 for the support of a dependent mother"—U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

"The mother's heart is the child's schoolroom"—Henry Ward Beecher.

"No bones are ever broken by a mother's beating"—Russian proverb.

"A spoilt child never loves its mother"—Henry Taylor.

"It was a great fight, Ma. I'll be right home"—any U.S. boxer.

"The female of one of the emus, as soon as she catches sight of her progeny, becomes violently agitated, and, notwithstanding the resistance of the father, appears to use her utmost endeavors to destroy them"—Charles Darwin.

"Get up from your knees, Mother—the crap game's over"—Fred Allen.

"A father is proud of those sons who have merit, and puts the rest lower. But a mother, though she is proud too of the former, cherishes the latter"—Confucius.

"Men are what their mothers make them"—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

"The angels singing unto one another, can find among their burning terms of love, one so devotional as that of 'Mother'—Edgar Allan Poe.

"Youth fades; love droops; the leaves of friendship fall. A mother's secret love outlives them all"—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

"Her children arise and call for her blessed"—Old Testament.

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

Every springtime I write "anemones" sooner or later and every springtime a kind proofreader points out to me that I'd do well to stick to "buttercups," because I always spell the name of the other flowers "Anemones."

Scientific studies confirm what thousands of us survivors have been sure of for a long time—that drivers who do crazy, reckless things in automobiles are impelled by an impulse to destroy themselves and us. They're sick in the head.

Nothing springs more eternal than my hope of raising beautiful flowers from tiny seeds in pretty little envelopes, each year I read where it says for best results the things should be planted indoors and transplanted outdoors later—yet each year I dream of getting results by planting them outside, though this never has been successful.

One of the reasons I am happy about our system of government is the frequency of upsets at the polls. This strikes me as a sure guarantee against oppression, because even chance and accident can pull the rug from under would-be oppressors.

Looking Backward

5 YEARS AGO — Salem's Jack Alexander broke the high jump record last evening as the Quakers captured the 52nd annual Columbia County track meet.

10 YEARS AGO — Girl friends of Shirley Hilliard gathered at her home recently to celebrate her 16th birthday anniversary.

The Chessman affair turned out to be as dismal as they come, because in the showdown the guy had to be executed to prove that California had the right to run its own affairs despite the goopy sentimentality and international eye-gouging the case generated.

I like the story about the southerner who makes a point of looking closely at the table silver at northern dinner parties. When asked what he is looking for, he draws in you-all lingo: "Some danyankee stole my grammaw's silvah and ah'm still lookin'."

It is my dismal conviction that there is more long-range logic in trial-error planlessness than in the short-range rationale of people who do public planning.

I think millions who wear glasses are in a mood to accept a new style of frame in place of the too long - continued heavy frames, which never made any sense. Light frames do make sense, and I would be a potential customer if they came back in style.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter, Brenda, is 16. She's a good-looking girl but short on personality. She couldn't get a boy interested in her until recently. Now she's so popular we are deeply concerned.

It all started about three months ago when Brenda became friendly with a girl I never cared for. The two of them started to attend night hockey games. Although they went stag they always found someone to bring them home. They call it "meeting new friends." In our day we called it "getting picked up."

The phone has been ringing steadily with calls from boys we've never met and know nothing about. Brenda has had as many as three different dates on a Saturday night.

She says we should leave her alone because she's popular now and happier than she's ever been in her life. Her schoolwork is going to the dogs. What shall we do? —AFRAID.

Dear Afraid: If you continue to let this girl run wild ("happy" my eye!) you're abdicating your responsibility as parents.

She can call it "meeting new friends" if she likes but she's getting picked up. The game is the same—and so is the name.

Lay down the law and set some limits. Tell Brenda she can't go out with anyone who has not first been introduced at home. Limit her dating to weekends only. And ONE date an evening is enough. Establish a curfew and see that she sticks to it.

In brief, get back in the driver's seat where you belong before this girl cracks up.

'Blunt' and 'Pointed'

Dear Ann: I have an acquaintance (I refuse to call her a friend) who always manages to ask questions about things which are none of her business.

For example, she'll come into my home and ask, "Is your carpeting wool or cotton?" Or, "Did you have a wholesale connection for the dinette set or did you buy it retail?"

When she asked me if I had a complete or partial plate, I thought this was the limit and told her it was really no business of hers. She replied she was only interested because she considered herself a very close friend.

How, in your opinion, should such a person be handled? —BLAZING.

Dear Blazing: Just the way you handled it — bluntly and to the point. Insensitive clods who think nothing of asking intimate questions should be sawed off at the knees.

Broken Engagements

Dear Ann: A group of us gals were discussing broken engagements during coffee break. There were a variety of opinions as to what happens to the ring. It seems to me I recall that a girl is entitled to keep the ring under all conditions as sort of a "payment" of the time spent on the fellow.

Will you please spell out the rules? Thanks a lot. —THE GROUP.

Dear Group: When the gal breaks the engagement, she has no right to continue to cuddle the hunk of ice. The ring should be returned. If the girl gets stubborn about it the fellow can resort to legal action.

It is an unwritten law that when the fellow cracks the engagement, the girl keeps the ring. It never made sense to me that a girl would want the ring of a fellow who didn't want her, but many girls feel perfectly comfortable about it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

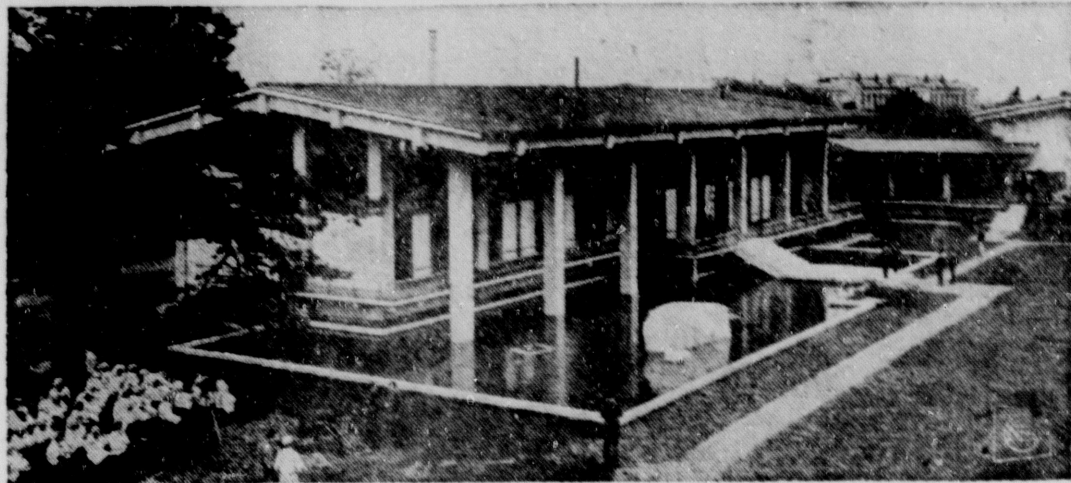

Akron Census Shows Five Per Cent Gain

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Preliminary figures show that the 1960 population of Akron is 287,592, it was announced today by Harold S. Wagner, district census supervisor.

This would be an increase of 12,987, or almost 5 per cent, since the 1950 census.

Wagner said the total is substantially correct, though final revisions may add a few thousand. Figures for the suburbs and the county are not yet available.

Johnson Lists Bill to be Acted On

Big Work Load Outlined by Senate Democratic Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders have outlined a big load of work for the Congress in the final nine weeks of the 1960 session before the national political conventions.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) praised his colleagues highly for five days of hard work before the Senate quit Friday for the weekend.

He said that if they worked at the same pace in the coming weeks, they undoubtedly could dispose of the remaining major legislation.

However, some of the important measure he listed, such as an immigration bill, remain bottled up in committee with little evidence so far that they are going to be cleared.

Johnson noted that the Senate since Monday had disposed of a $4,100,000,000 foreign aid bill, a 970-million-dollar space authorization measure, a 251-million-dollar depressed areas bill, the 729-million-dollar Commerce Department appropriations bill, the 557-million-dollar Interior Department appropriations measure, a government employee retirees' health bill, and a bank merger bill.

Then he listed these important bills to be acted on before adjournment: A bill raising the minimum wage and extending coverage of the act. This has been under consideration by the full Labor Committee since last summer. A medical plan for the aged. Johnson said he believed Congress would act in this field before quitting. The issue is now before the House Ways and Means Committee.

tee; that branch must act first. A federal employees pay raise. The House committee has approved a 9 per cent boost; the Senate group is still conducting hearings.

A farm bill. Johnson noted the Senate Agriculture Committee had approved a wheat bill, and said perhaps a more comprehensive measure covering many crops might come from the House.

A housing bill. The House has passed a one-billion-dollar measure; the Senate Housing subcommittee opens hearings on it Monday.

A social security bill. Now before Ways and Means. The House must act first.

An unemployment compensation bill. Legislation to broaden coverage and set federal standards is being introduced, but there is no indication the committees will act on it this year.

Youth Gets Year on Delinquency Charge

LISBON — Jack Lee Pumphrey, 18, of Midland, Pa., was sentenced Friday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin to one year in the county jail for contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old East Liverpool girl.

Pumphrey was picked up by Midland police on a complaint signed by Chris Pusey, county probation officer, after Pumphrey took the girl into Pennsylvania and kept her out all night.

The girl was turned over to the Columbiana County Welfare Department for placement.

Busy Scissors 4-H club met Friday at the home of their advisor, Mrs. Helen Suffecool.

Officers who were elected include, president, Carole Flory; vice president, Marianne Burkey; secretary, Jeannie Negley; treasurer, Kathy Suffecool; reporter, Linda Hoskins; recreation leader, Diane Casto; and song leader, Gladys Flory.

Refreshments were served by the assistant advisor Mrs. Ruth Negley.

Sirenettes met Monday at the home of Mrs. Lucille Earnest. The door prize was won by Mrs. Mary Flory. The group is sponsoring red cross lessons each Friday at the fire station.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sigler Sr. have moved here from Alliance.

Miss Dorothy Mae Sutcliffe has returned to her home after a stay in the Youngstown South Side Hospital.

Deerfield PTA will meet Monday for the annual recognition banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Martin of Alliance, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnston of North Benton were Saturday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Johnston.

BLASTS ELECTION BOARD

CLEVELAND (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has criticized the Cuyahoga County Election Board for its slowness in forwarding results of last Tuesday's primary election to Columbus.

But Brown, after visiting the election board Friday, said he will not probe the delay in the vote count here. He demanded improved methods be used in subsequent vote counts.

Board chairman Ben C. Green admitted he did not follow Brown's orders in sending in election results.

Picketing of Egyptian Freighter Ends

NEW YORK (AP) — Picketing of an Egyptian freighter in New York Harbor was at an end today, along with a growing boycott that the Arab world had summoned up to counter it in the Middle East.

Picketing of the ship Cleopatra stopped Friday after the State Department promised it would try new steps to halt Arab blacklisting of American ships dealing with Israel.

The Seafarers International Union withdrew its single picket from the East River where the Cleopatra had been stranded with its cargo since April. The picket line was seldom larger, but enough to keep out cargo handlers who refused to cross it.

Arab counterpicketing started a week ago Friday.

The settlement was the climax of an unusual experiment in international bargaining by picket line. But the union warned that its part was not over.

Seafarers President Paul Hall told the State Department that picketing will be resumed unless the State Department makes good its pledge to investigate union complaints and step up efforts to protect American ships and sailors from Arab discrimination.

The union maintains that blacklisting has cost an increasing number of American seamen their jobs. It also charges that some American sailors have been mistreated in Arab ports.

Man Held for Illegal Wearing of Uniform

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 31-year-old Cleveland man charged with illegally wearing the uniform of a U.S. Air Force major waived a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Herbert A. Horn Friday and was jailed in lieu of $500 bond pending action of the federal grand jury.

Alvin J. Pinda was arrested by FBI agents, who said he bought the uniform last April 21 and wore it while mingling with members of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at Case Institute of Technology.

Pinda, discharged from the Air Force in 1948, was arrested in Pittsburgh 10 years ago on a charge of illegally wearing an officer's uniform and was placed on probation for six months, the FBI said.

FAITH... SECURITY COURAGE

Faith, Sincerity, Courage . . . the by-words of the First Salem Corp., 714 S. Broadway . . . faith in the fact that the Columbiana-Southern Mahoning County area is "the" locale for new industry . . . sincerity in purpose that the need for industrial growth is here and that it will take the cooperation of the FSC and the residents of the Columbiana-Southern Mahoning County area to carry out a sound program of industrial expansion . . . courage by civic and industrial leaders to advance into a sphere of endeavor to enhance the welfare of the Columbiana-Southern Mahoning County area by providing its citizens with employment opportunities.

The people of First Salem Corporation and the people of Salem welcome Carl Fulkerson, his father and his family to Salem. We think our community is a wonderful place to live and work.

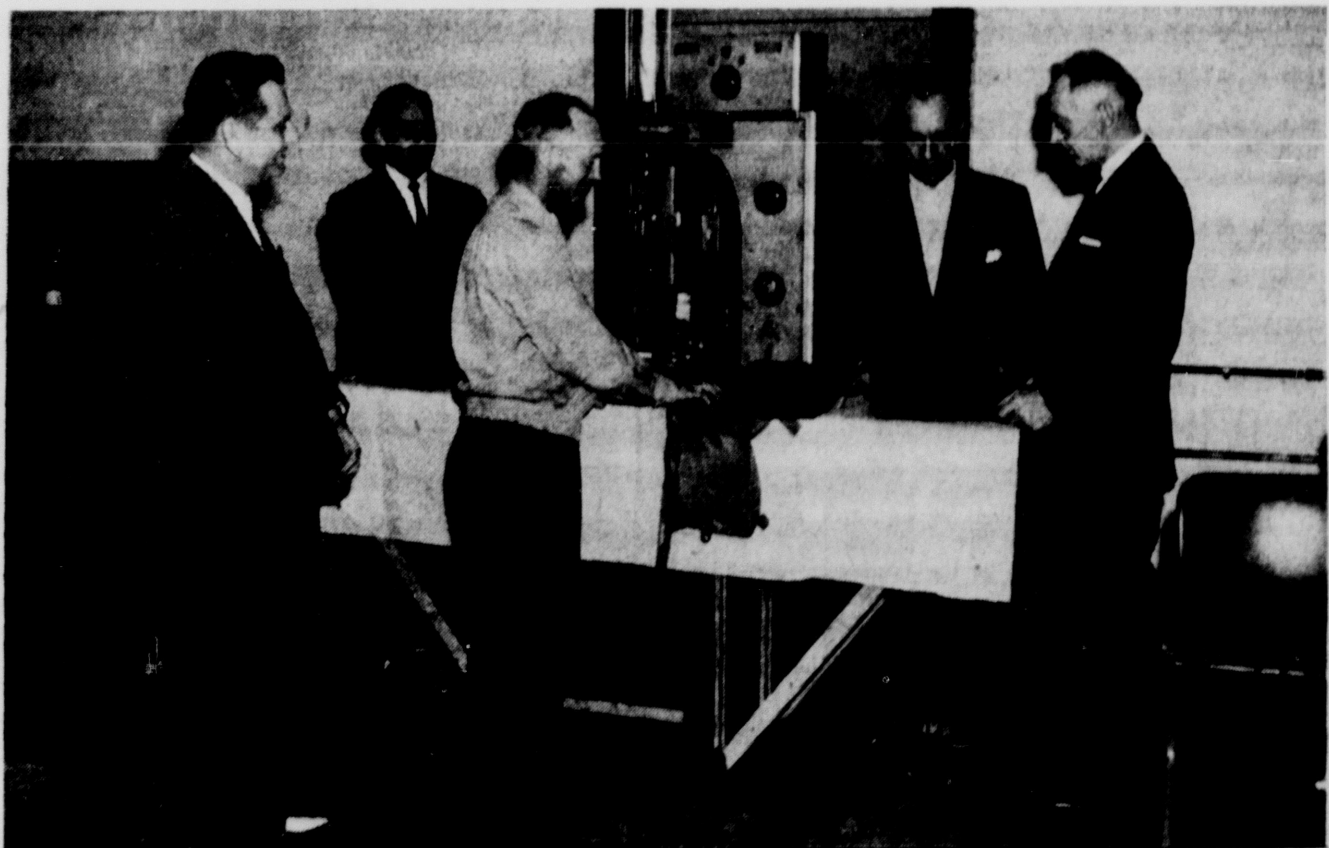

Many of our existing industries in this area are as sound as they are because a father had faith and confidence in this location. They also had the courage of their convictions and were willing to work hard.

It is therefore with particular pride and satisfaction that we welcome this father-son combination to our community.

These men are in a field that shows tremendous promise. Most people do not realize the great strides which have been made in the plastic field.

I am sure the people of Salem join with us in saying welcome and good luck to Carl and his family and Bob Campanell.

Walter J. Hunston
F. S. C., President

"We seriously felt that the First Salem Corp. was plastic minded" . . . because of his faith, sincerity and courage, Carl Fulkerson Jr., president of the Plastoseal Products Corp., is the newest industry to be located in the Keener Building by FSC leaders. Looking over one of the presses in the scene above are: l. to r., Merle K. Loucks, executive vice-president of the FSC; Robert Campanell, sales consultant for Plastoseal. Carl Fulkerson Jr., Plastoseal president. Carl Fulkerson Sr., vice-president of the plastics firm and E. R. Durand, vice-president and management consultant for the FSC. Formerly of Cuyahoga Falls, the new Salem firm will make such plastic products as beach items, telephone book covers, brief cases, cleaning gloves, life preservers and are fabricators of electronically sealed vinyls and foils. The firm has moved in all its equipment and machines. With present equipment, Fulkerson said, employment can reach a maximum of 20 men. Mrs. Carl Fulkerson Jr. is secretary-treasurer of the firm.

The invitation to take part in the Alliance event was accepted by the local chapter at a meeting on Wednesday night in the temple.

Mrs. Anna Cannon, senior regent presided.

There were 29 present for the Membership Chapter Night program presented by Mrs. Helen Madden and her committee, Mrs. Edith McElroy and Mrs. Sadie Doyle.

A report from the nominating committee was read, and new officers will be elected at the June 1 meeting.

The annual anniversary dinner will be May 25 at Goshen Grange with Mrs. Arthur Stark as chairman, and Mrs. Paul Stallsmith as made until May 15 with Mrs. Wayne Phillips.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Stark, the junior regent, was honored with a surprise handkerchief shower. The occasion celebrated her birthday, and she also was presented a large lighted birthday cake.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Madden and her committee. The tables were made attractive with arrangements of spring flowers.

A special prize was awarded to Mrs. Cannon, and the attendance award went to Mrs. Phillips.

Prior to the regular session, the executive committee held a business meeting.

Bride-elect Feted At Shower Party

Custom of open church will be held June 4 at 7 p.m. in the First United Presbyterian Church for the wedding of Miss Sandra Trotter and Duane Bates.

Miss Trotter is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Trotter of Adam St. Her fiancé is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bates of Jennings Ave.

A bridal shower in Miss Trotter's honor was given Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Frederick J. Limestahl of Home Circle. The 14 guests were from Alliance, Damascus and Salem.

The gift table was covered with white net and centered with a large bride doll over which an umbrella covered in yellow net was suspended. Gifts for the bride were placed underneath the umbrella and at various points throughout the house, which were revealed in verses read by the honoree.

Game prizes went to Miss Joyce Lora, Mrs. Harvey Bates and Mrs. John Lora.

Mrs. Charles Trotter assisted Mrs. Limestahl in serving tray lunches. Favors were miniature yellow and white umbrellas serving as cut cups and individual packets of rice with which to shower the bride on her wedding day.

Expectant Mothers Class To Hear Talk

Miss Ada Santmyer, supervisor of the obstetrics department of the Salem City Hospital, will speak about "Labor and Delivery" at Wednesday night's class for the Expectant Mothers Prenatal Clinic at the Hannah E. Mullins Nurses Home.

At last Wednesday's session, Mrs. Mary Hanna, dietitian at the Central Clinic, conducted the class on the subject, "Nutrition During Pregnancy."

Lunch was served to the 16 class members and the instructors by Mrs. Lester Bateman, member of the Women's Auxiliary of Salem Hospitals. The auxiliary assists the class sponsors, the Nurses Alumni Association of Salem City Hospital and the Salem Health Department.

Personal Notes

Dr. and Mrs. George F. Jones of 1580 N. Ellsworth Ave. have returned from Columbus where Dr. Jones attended a three-day clinic at Ohio State University. Their son, Ben, has been initiated into the active chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at Ohio State University where he is a freshman.

NURSES WILL MEET

Reports of the American Nurses Association Biennial Convention will be given at the regular meeting of District No. 3 Wednesday at 8 p.m. at St. Joseph Riverside Hospital, Warren. Mrs. Therese Melillo, president of District No. 3, urges all nurses to hear these reports.

Accumulative Careers Total 70 Years

Mrs. Sprague, Miss Roller To Retire As Teachers

Retiring next month after having served as teachers a combined total of 70 years in Salem and vicinity will be Mrs. Lynn Sprague and Miss Lois Roller.

Mrs. Sprague (nee Evelyn Johnston) has been at Salem Senior High School 18 of her 38 years in the teaching profession. She has taught every grade from first through twelfth for at least two years each, except the third and fourth grades. She has taught high school math, French, music, and "just about every other high school subject except science."

Before joining the Salem High faculty, she taught 14 years in New Waterford, two years in Hubbard and four years at McKinley School in Salem.

Mrs. Sprague says she has no definite plans for the future, "but there are lots of things I'd like to do." She would like to take a course in writing and she would like to study organ. She sometimes substitutes as organist in New Waterford Presbyterian Church.

She and her husband, a former and teacher, reside at 1294 E. Third St.

Miss Roller has taught 32 years, 19 of them at Salem Junior High School where she currently teaches geography.

Miss Roller's first year of experience as a teacher was in Oak Grove School, a one-room structure south of Lisbon where there were nine students in five grades.

She taught intermediate grades in Greenford two years and in Columbiana nine years. Before joining the teaching staff at Junior High, she also taught in two other Salem schools - Columbia St. and McKinley.

She resides currently at 484 Fifth St. but plans to make her home after retirement at 311 N. Main St., Columbiana.

Deaths and Funerals

Herbert Jacobson

Herbert John Jacobson, 47, of 223 W. Pershing St. died of a heart attack at Salem City Hospital at 8:45 p.m. Friday.

Born in Cleveland March 22, 1913, he was a son of Gustave and Elizabeth Hugel Jacobson. He was a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church. He was a shipping clerk at the Deming Co. for 18 years.

He is survived by his wife, Vivian O'dell Jacobson, whom he married Oct. 26, 1935; two daughters, Mrs. Bonnie Bosel and Mrs. Jack Pike, both of Salem; a twin brother, Tyler of Salem; two sisters, Mrs. George Hissong of Mansfield and Mrs. John Sebo of Salem; his father of Cleveland; and three grandchildren. A brother, Bustave, and his mother preceded him in death.

Services will be Monday at 2 p.m. at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, where the body will lie in state from noon until time of service. The Rev. Richard Freseman will officiate.

Burial will be in Hope Cemetery. Friends may call at the Stark Memorial Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

New Waterford Banquets Planned

NEW WATERFORD — The annual mother-daughter banquet will be held at Zion Lutheran Church Tuesday at 6 p.m. A covered dish dinner will be served and the beverage will be furnished. Mrs. Norman Wilhelm, chairman, will be assisted by the Willing Workers.

Max Gard, County Commissioner will be the guest speaker and during the social hour prizes will be awarded for the craziest hat worn.

The annual mother-daughter banquet of the Presbyterian Church will be held Thursday night at 6:30 at the Methodist Church. The dinner will be served by the Methodist Women's Association.

The program committee is Mrs. Ralph Fitzsimons, Mrs. Raymond Montgomery, Mrs. William Grossen and Mrs. Robert McElroy.

Spelling Bee

apparently thinking the pronouncer said "tremult." Miss Bennett went down on "mediocre" and Miss Jones on "obese," both in the third round.

YOUNG KENNY HUK, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Huk of 222 Allen Ave., Columbiana, remained in the fight until round seven when there were only 13 students left. He missed on "monocle" by trying to substitute an "i" for the second "o." Linda Ferguson made it all the way to round nine before missing "inroad." She placed an "e" at the beginning of the word rather than the "i." She was the runner-up to Miss Shepherd in the county contest.

In explaining their standouts successes both Young Roseman and Miss Klemann admitted that they spent a great deal of time studying although neither claimed to do an excessive amount of reading.

Mr. Klemann said Jeanne was faithful to her books and gave more than a fair amount of time to study each night.

Jim Roseman said he could attribute much of his success to his studying and to his parents who kept him at his books. He revealed that all of his relatives might have had something to do with his victory by making gifts of books to him even though he doesn't think he reads a lot.

RUNNERUP isn't an unfamiliar spot for Miss Klemann. In the Columbiana County Bee this year she was third, and in 1959 she was runner-up to the County School's champion.

The first prize, presented by Eugene Carr, Spelling Bee director, was a portable typewriter. Jimmy also received a complete set of Encyclopedia Britannica, a gold medal and an all expense trip to Washington, D.C., where he will participate in the National Spelling Bee the week of June 5.

Miss Klemann's award was a portable typewriter while Miss Crowe received a copy of the Britannica World Language Dictionary. All 38 contestants received copies of the Webster Collegiate Dictionary.

Sponsored by the Canton Repository, the Spelling Bee was judged by Mrs. John Saffell of the Department of English, Mount Union College; Dr. Lowell W. Coolidge of the Department of English, College of Wooster; and William D. Taylor Jr., chairman of the school of Journalism, Kent State University.

Pronouncer was Dr. Donald D. Starr, professor of chemistry, chairman of the Division of Science and Mathematics, Malone College, Canton.

Prior to the competition all contestants, their parents or guardians and guests were guests at a dinner held in the cafeteria of the high school.

Granges

Greenford Meeting Held

Regular meeting of the Greenford Grange was held Tuesday evening.

It was decided to meet the third Tuesday evening of each month and to hold a card party the last Saturday of each month for all grangers and their friends.

Members voted to send $5 to Boys Town near Wooster.

In the near future a benefit dance will be held and proceeds given to Boys Town. Tentative plans are to visit Boys Town later.

PROGRAM IS PLANNED

LISBON — Gourd crafts will be presented at a meeting of the Fairfield Friendly Neighbor Home Demonstration Group Wednesday from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Don Fitzsimmons on the Columbiana-Middleton Rd.

Members are asked to bring a covered dish and wear a hat made and trimmed with kitchen utensils. A plant and seed exchange will be held, according to Miss Julia Shank, county extension agent in home economics.

76 Attend Greenford Banquet

GREENFORD — Tables were set for 76 for the Christian Church mother-daughter banquet Thursday evening at the Greenford School. Bouquets of lilacs centered the table with programs made to the pattern of aprons with ribbon. Each place was set with a favor, being a small corsage.

Mrs. Frank Bauer welcomed the group and Mrs. William Ferguson gave the response.

Entertainment was a welcome song by a number of small girls. Patti Robinette and Kay Benett sang a duet. Mrs. Eugene Huffman sang two solos, "Mother" and "Songs My Mother Use to Sing," accompanied by Mrs. Donald Beardsley.

Mrs. Harry McFadden, wife of the Youngstown Hillman Street Christ Church pastor, was guest speaker.

Potted plants were given to Mrs. William Ferguson, mother with the Youngest daughter present; Mrs. E. V. Eylich, mother with the most daughters present.

Mrs. Donald Howe was the toastmistress.

Mrs. Clarke Wisler gave the invocation. Mrs. Lowell Cook read the scriptures and Mrs. Drury Benton gave the benediction.

Khrushchev

the United States) would have been produced.

Alfred Base, Industries "Some of the photographs are of Soviet aerodromes and industrial enterprises," he declared. "The camera used was a good one."

Khrushchev claimed that Powers had since admitted he was working in military intelligence under cover of an official job at a civilian station.

"He has said that he was to have flown over a number of points including Murnansk and Archangle switching on and off his apparatus over various points marked on the map," said the Premier. His eventual destination was the Norwegian airport at Boedoe.

(Commenting on Khrushchev's earlier announcement that a U.S. plane had been shot down, the State Department said Friday a single-engine high-altitude jet used in weather research took off from Adana, Turkey last Sunday and had been missing. It said the pilot might have been unconscious when the incident occurred.

"During the flight of this plane," the State Department report said, "the pilot reported difficulty with his oxygen equipment which could result in the pilot losing consciousness, the plane continued on automatic pilot for a considerable distance and accidentally violated Soviet air space."

In Best Dramatic Form Khrushchev was in his best dramatic form appearing before the Soviet deputies.

In attacking the United States speculation of what happened to the missing weather plane, he declared: "Now they have already told us a lot of foolish things and I assure they will give us more foolish things."

Khrushchev then quoted the pilot as testifying that "his apparatus was not damaged and that he was flying along the itinerary prescribed for him. The people who sent him thought he wouldn't be detected because of the great height of his flight."

"But he was detected at the height of 20,000 meters (about 63,000 feet). We caught him there and will catch any plane even at higher height."

Khrushchev said Powers escaped from his crashing aircraft by parachute.

He was, claimed the Premier, equipped with a noiseless pistol and a supply of Soviet money and French gold francs—"carefully wrapped in cellophane." Powers was also carrying several pocket watches and several women's rings.

"Was he going to fly to Mars and seduce Martian women?" Khrushchev asked scornfully amid laughter.

Ike's Hidden Ace

By JAY G. HAYDEN

President Eisenhower unlimbered what may prove his most effective club for winning action by the Democratic Congress to his liking when he told a Republican group breakfasting at the White House that he might call a special session if his foreign aid program is materially slashed.

The President advanced that same threat last year with no visible result. The foreign aid appropriation would up more than a billion dollars short of the sum requested and Eisenhower signed it peaceably.

However, there is the difference that this is a presidential election year. Congressmen of both parties remember all too well how President Truman provided himself with a winning issue by calling the Republican 80th Congress back into session, July 26, 1948, with a demand for a cession on a whole raft of issues laden with special voter interest.

Republicans, including their presidential nominee, Thomas E. Dewey, were contemptuous of this maneuver, but in the final analysis Truman stood the opposition Congress on its head.

Clearly, that brush proved that in a showdown just before election between one man, the President, and a congressional membership of 531, each one fighting strictly for himself, the man in the White House possessed an enormous advantage.

NOT THE LEAST factor in that embargo was that the Republican presidential nominee, Dewey, simply became lost in the shuffle. The fight, as the voting reflected, was between Truman and the Congress.

There is the variation now that the incumbent president is not running for re-election. But that condition might work even more as a congressional handicap. Eisenhower, relieved from any suspicion that he is trying to advance himself, might make his blows against the legislative branch all the more effective.

In the meantime the Republican presidential nominee, Vice President Nixon, could be making his own hay with only indirect attention to the President vs. Congress brawl.

Truman's main excuse for calling the Congress back in 1948 was soaring prices for consumers. Curiously, the Truman appeal seemed to be aimed against the farmers in that agricultural prices—hogs selling at more than $30 per hundredweight, for example—constituted the main cause of the high cost of living.

Truman simply dug up every issue he could think of in terms of helping the poor at the expense of the rich:

Re-establishment of an excess profits tax.

Restoration of consumer credit controls.

Greater authority for the Federal Reserve to regulate inflationary bank credit.

Regulation of commodity exchange speculation.

Allocation and inventory control of scarce commodities.

Strengthened rent controls.

Standby authority to ration "those few products which basically affect essential production or the cost of living."

"Noninflationary wage raises could and should continue."

Admission of 400,000 assorted foreign immigrants.

THE SOUTH, having already bolted more or less, was swatted by the President with a demand for adoption of the civil rights program recommended by a bi-racial commission he had appointed.

Republicans scorned this whole program as too ridiculous for words. What they failed to realize was that, taken apart and circularized piece by piece to each of a myriad voting groups, there were literally carloads of special interest votes.

The point of the moment is that Eisenhower by summoning a special session could duplicate Truman's 1948 performance and perhaps more so.

This Congress almost certainly is going to wind up in a stalemate that will put the 1948 session to shame. Eisenhower has just detailed a long list of his recommendations, so far not even considered. And at the same time he made it clear that he is going to veto most of the proposals the Democrats are planning to submit as their November election bread and butter.

The vital fact is that the President by his powers, first of veto and then to reconvene the Congress, possesses the strongest club. North American Newspaper Alliance

2 Gls Lost In Libyan Desert Found Alive

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Army announced today two American soldiers missing in the Libyan Desert since last Saturday have been found alive and in good condition.

The two were part of a 19-man Army mortar team flown to North Africa from Germany to seek the remains of four crewmen still missing from an American bomber which crashed in the desert in 1943.

The two were lost in a blinding sandstorm. They were found today and flown by helicopter to search headquarters, which the Army and U.S. Air Force had set up in the desert.

The Army identified the two as Sgt. I.C. Jarvis M. Wheeler, 32, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Wheeler of Livingston, Tex., and Pfc Ronald Bingham, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bingham of Albany, Calif. Wheeler is a topographer and Bingham a truck driver.

They had been lost in a vast desert area 400 miles south of Benghazi, where search for four missing crewmen from the World War II bomber Lady Be Good was being conducted.

The two had been together in a jeep with a four-day supply of food and a 20-day supply of water when they became separated from the rest of the team headed by Capt. Myron C. Fuller of Placerville, Calif.

The Lady Be Good was found by oilmen a year ago in remarkably good condition.

The bomber had made a belly landing after its crew had bailed out on return from a mission against Naples, Italy.

Oilmen also found the bodies of four members of the crew last February, together with a moving diary which provided clues for the new search, covering almost 2,000 square miles.

port, had arrived from Mexico City aboard a plane.

A check at Havana's larger hotels failed to turn up anyone registered as Van Dendresch or Mornard.

Informed Mexican sources said Mornard will leave for Europe later and possibly go to Czechoslovakia. He was issued a Czech passport, with a Cuban visa, several months ago.

Mexico granted Mornard provisional liberty last Wednesday and ordered him out as an undesirable alien. Interior Ministry agents took him from the prison and put him aboard a plane bound for Havana.

CITED AFTER ACCIDENT

Roy Wilson Deane, 75, of 167 S. Union Ave., was cited for failure to yield the right of way, following a two-car accident at 2:24 p.m. Friday on E. Pershing St. at S. Broadway.

Police said Deane failed to stop for a red light at the intersection and struck a car operated by Earl Baird, 71, of RD, Canfield. Neither driver was injured. Both cars were damaged.

Twisters Strike Two Small Towns Near Mobile, Ala.

Terrifying twisters swirled out of the darkness and struck two small communities near Mobile, Ala., this morning, the Weather Bureau reported.

An unidentified eye witness quoted by the Weather Bureau at the Air Weather Service, Brookley Air Force Base, Mobile, said he heard a heavy roar and watched buildings explode in front of him on Dauphin Island Highway south of the Dog River Bridge near Mobile.

Unconfirmed reports said two service stations, one grocery store, a skating rink and a Mason lodge were destroyed and a Baptist church badly damaged. Another twister was sighted at St. Elmo, Ala., three miles west of Theodore, on Highway 90 west of Mobile.

It marked the third straight day of death and destruction from the swirling winds.

Twenty-nine were dead and hundreds injured from the twisters that unleashed their most savage fury on Oklahoma and Arkansas and then darted into the Mississippi Valley and the South.

Gusty winds, hail and heavy rains also added to the storms' wrath which counted hundreds of homes and businesses destroyed or damaged.

At Wilburton, Okla., where 11 persons were killed and 104 injured by Thursday night's twister, Gov. J. Howard Edmondson said, "I will declare it a major disaster area."

A check of the community of 1,900 showed 82 homes destroyed, 34 heavily damaged, 22 businesses destroyed and two churches demolished.

Wide areas of the Midwest and South braced for the worst Friday during repeated tornado warnings, but damage was mercifully light.

At Lexie, in southwest Mississippi, a twister destroyed one house, lifted 12 others from their foundations and damaged 50 more. Nearby, homes were damaged in the areas of Poplarville, Dexter and Sandy Hook.

In west-central Illinois and in Missouri's bootheel, funnel clouds touched ground, but damage was light.

Funnels also were sighted near Osceola, Ark., and in Tennessee about 25 miles northeast of Memphis.

Heavy rains and gale-force winds struck scattered areas Friday and today.

New Orleans was drenched with 2.35 inches of rain, Baton Rouge got 2 inches, Goshen, Ind., 1.30 inches, and Lafayette, Ind., which reported wind gusts over 80 m.p.h., 1.04 inches.

Two inches of rain also fell at Murrayville, Ill., 1 at Rockford, Ill., and hail pelted central Illinois.

In Wisconsin, snow mixed with rain fell today as a cold front extended southwestward from the Great Lakes through the Eastern Plains well into Texas, dropping temperatures as much as 25 degrees from the previous 24-hour readings.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Mother's Prayer

Dear God . . . help me to live up to the faith I see in my child's eyes. Help me to be the person she thinks I am. I am so very human . . . yet to her I am wise as a sage. I am so very frail . . . yet to her I am a tower of strength.

I can bind her cuts and bruises . . . I can soothe her small hurts, both physical and mental . . . I can give her love . . . I can protect and cherish her. Yet I can never be half of all I must be, without You to guide me.

Help me . . . and watch over her. In Your Church, teach her the things that are beyond my power . . . so that she will one day be a better woman than I; and in her turn, a better mother.

12 3-Year-Olds Wait For Signal In 86th Kentucky Derby

Tompion Choice At 7-5 Odds Bally Ache Also Rated Good Chance

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Twelve 3-year-old horses, tuned as fine as humanly possible at a cost of more than $200,000, waited for the signal today sending them after gold and glory in the 86th Kentucky Derby.

Post time for the start of this tradition-steeped 1 1/2 mile run around ancient, flower-bordered Churchill Downs is 4:30 p. m. EST. It will be televised and broadcast nationally (CBS) with TV set for 4:15-4:45 p. m. and radio for 4:30-4:45.

In a little more than two minutes (the record is 2:01 2-5 by Whirlaway in 1941) it all will be over except for the crowning of the winner with a blanket of red roses, the awarding of the huge gold trophy to the owner and the shouts and shrieks of the winning bettors in the crowd of some 100,000.

If the winner should be other than C. V. Whitney's Tompion or Leonard Fruchman's Bally Ache, the shouts will be drowned by moans. For these two horses stand out like the Downs' twin steeps.

Tompion, a Kentucky-bred son of Tom Fool who made his reputation postward the 7-5 choice. Bally Ache, winner of Florida's two $100,000-plus stakes for 3-year-olds and out of the money only one in 23 starts, is the firm second choice at 2-1.

Fourteen were named for the race.

But two were expected to be scratched. One is Henry Elmore's Henrihan, who has been slow recovering from a slight fever.

The other is Hillsborough, Calumet Farm's candidate for its eighth derby success. Trainer considers the son of Ponder good enough to match strides with Tompion and Bally Ache.

Based on 14 starters the race has a gross value of $160,000 with net of $116,100 to the winner. For each scratch subtract the $1,250 starting fee.

Only four of the jockeys ever have been up on a derby winner. Willie Shoemaker, who'll ride Tompion, won last year with Tommy Lee and in 1954 with Dermot. Bill Hartack will seek his second aboard Isaac Blumberg's Venetian Way. Hartack won in 1957 with Iron Liege.

Ismael Valenzuela scored with Tim Tam two years ago. He'll handle the reins of Llangollen Farm's Divine Comedy. Steve Brooks goes after No. 2 on either Hillsborough or T. A. Grissom's Lullah. His winner was Ponder in 1949.

For Bob Ussery, his ride aboard Bally Ache will be his first in a derby.

Fairfield-Waterford Wins Triangular Meet

The Fairfield-Waterford Junior High track squad won a triangular meet from United and Columbiana on Friday.

The Rebels racked up 54 points, compared to 32 for Columbiana and 17 for United. The meet was held at Columbiana.

Cope of Fairfield-Waterford was the outstanding performer in the meet, winning four first places. He captured the 120-yard dash in 16.6, the 100-yard dash in 11.4, the high jump at 5 ft and the broad jump at 16 ft. 8 in.

Cope also added a third place in the 220-yard dash, giving him a total of 22 points for his afternoon's work.

Cresanto added two more firsts for Fairfield and Welsh contributed one to give the Rebels first places in seven of the nine events.

Columbiana picked up the other two firsts. Arbuckle of the Clippers won the 440-yard dash and their half mile relay team also came out on top.

Mount Union Baseball Game Scheduled Here

Mount Union College of Alliance and Maryland State College will meet in regularly scheduled baseball game at Centennial Park in Salem at 3 p. m. next Saturday.

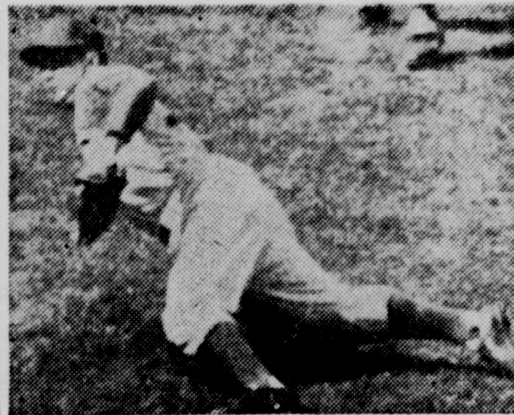

Due to May Day activities at Mount Union, the athletic director there, Jack Rafeld, suggested to Salem Junior Baseball officials that the game be played here.

All proceeds from the game will go to the Salem Junior Baseball League.

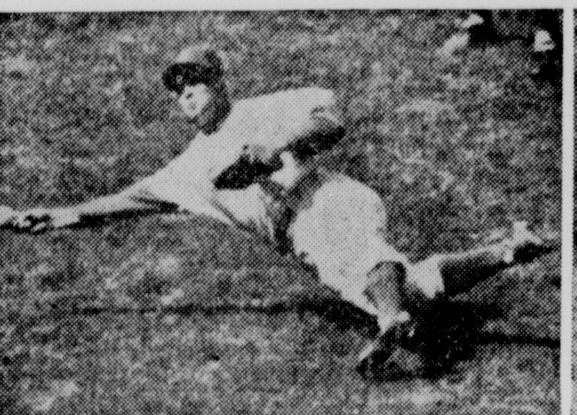

Tickets for the contest are on sale at Fisher's News Agency and Scott's Sports. Prices are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

COLLEGE TRY — Don Zimmer almost turns in the play of the day against his former teammates, the Los Angeles Dodgers, at Wrigley Field in Chicago. The Cubs' third baseman moves far to his left for a slow grounder hit by Tommy Davis. Zimmer, who was never charged with not trying, gets to the ball all right, picks it up cleanly and gets off the throw to the plate. The trouble is that the throw is wide, permitting Wally Moon, who continues to hit well, to score from second base. Zimmer gets E for effort and an error.

Yankees, Red Sox Win

Score, Staley Combine for 3-Hit Shutout of Senators 3-0

By The Associated Press
They've been few and far between, but southpaw Herb Score has another step behind him on the long road back from the injury that almost ended one of major league baseball's most promising careers three years ago today.

Nagged by arm trouble and wildness since recovering from the line drive that endangered his sight May 7, 1957, Score recaptured some of his old success Friday night, pairing with reliever Gerry Staley for a three-hit shutout as Chicago's White Sox beat Washington 3-0.

Score, one-time fast-balling strikeout ace, had lost seven straight since last July 3. In 51 1-3 innings since then he had given up 50 bases on balls. But Friday night he walked just two and fanned four before being lifted for a pinchhitter in a three-run seventh that kept the Sox in a virtual tie for the American League lead.

The New York Yankees, .018 percentage points ahead of the Sox, defeated Kansas City 8-7. Baltimore grabbed third place back from Cleveland, rapping the Indians 9-2. And Boston scored three in the ninth for a 3-2 decision over Detroit, the Tigers ninth straight defeat.

In the National League, San Francisco closed within one game of first place Pittsburgh by beating the Pirates 5-1. Philadelphia won its first at Los Angeles in 13 tries, beating the Dodgers 6-1 in 10 innings. Cincinnati won its fifth straight with a 1-0 decision over St. Louis. Milwaukee's game at Chicago was rained out.

Sore, 26, a 20-game winner as a sophomore in 1956, had only an 11-14 record with Cleveland after his injury and the Indians traded him to the Sox three weeks ago.

Score squared his record at 1-1 in his third start for the White Sox, who were shut out on one-hit for six innings before handing Pete Ramos his third loss of the year. They did it with two out in the seventh, when pinchhitters Ted Kuszewski and Earl Torgeson, batting for Score, lined singles after Al Smith's double and a walk. Staley, who hasn't been charged with a run this season, then extended his shutout streak to 15 2-3 innings with a hitless, three-inning mopup.

The Yankees won their third straight on Gil McDougald's eighth-inning single.

Baltimore cut loose for seven runs in the fourth inning against rookie Dick Stigman (1-1) and reliever Jim Perry. Skinny Brown (2-0) won his second complete game.

Boston capped its ninth-inning rally with two unearned runs after a two-out error by shortstop Chico Fernandez.

Tribe Pounded 9-2 by Orioles

4 Indian Hurlers Tagged for 11 Hits

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gary Bell goes after his third victory today in the wake of the worst pounding Cleveland Indian pitchers have taken this season.

The Baltimore Orioles rapped four Cleveland hurlers for 11 hits Friday night on their way to a 9-2 victory.

Hal (Skinny) Brown (2-0) shut out the Indians until the ninth inning when Woodie Held hit a home run, his sixth of the year, over the left center field fence, scoring Tito Francona ahead of him.

Rookie hurler Dick Stigman (1-1) pitched scoreless ball for three innings, but in the big fourth inning Baltimore scored seven runs. Jim Perry came in to relieve with three runs in, the bases loaded and two out.

Baltimore's big inning added up to five hits and three bases on balls. Brooks Robinson, who led off with a double, sent three runners home on his second double of the inning.

Robinson knocked in another run in the sixth with a single off Carl Thomas that scored Gene Woodling. In two innings, Thomas gave up one hit, walked one and hit one batter.

The final Baltimore tally in the seventh inning was off Mike Lee, who gave up two hits in two innings.

Manager Joe Gordon and pitching coach Mel Harder were not around to see the end of the game. Both were ejected by umpire Ed Runge in the fourth inning for heckling from the bench.

The defeat dropped Cleveland from third place in the American League to a fourth-place tie with Boston.

Baltimore rookie Chuck Estrada also trying for his third victory, opposes Bell on the mound today.

SHARON RACES SET

More than 40 cars are expected to be in the lineup Sunday night for the weekly stock car racing program at Sharon Speedway at Hartford, O.

The list of drivers will include the two winners of last week's opening program, Gib Orr, who won the 25-lap modified feature, and Leonard Stumph, who won the 20-lap straight stock feature.

The eight-event program will begin at 8:30 p. m. Time trials are set for 7 p. m. and the gates to the covered grandstand will open at 6:30.

Springfield Wins Class A Meet

Greenford, Second; North Lima, Third

Springfield Local High School captured nine of 14 events to run away with the Mahoning County Class A track and field meet held Friday at Boardman.

The powerful crew from Petersburg compiled 80 points, almost double the 42 markers posted by runner-up Greenford. North Lima was third with 34, followed by Jackson-Milton, 31 1/2, Lowellville, 31 1/2, and Western Reserve, 6.

Klein of North Lima broke the county high jump record. He cleared the bar at 5 ft. 11 in., snapping the old mark of 5 ft. 8 in., set in 1946 by R. Mesmer of Springfield Local.

Besides winning the high jump, North Lima also captured the 100-yard dash and the 880-yard run. Greenford took first places in the low hurdles and 880-yard relay. All other events were swept by Springfield Local.

The Tigers had one triple and two double winners. Dick Bretz captured both the 220 and 440-yard dashes and was a member of Springfield's victorious mile relay team.

Heck took top honors in both the discus and 120-yard high hurdles. Bloomingdale registered firsts for Springfield in the pole vault and broad jump.

Greenford's winners were Ken Wellendorf in the low hurdles and the half mile relay team of Dave Lasky, Merlyn Bush, Bob Mincher and Paul Lasky.

Wellendorf's winning time in the low hurdles was 22.9. He also placed second in both the high hurdles and high jump to lead the Greenford squad to its runner-up position.

'Cycle Scramble Races Set Sunday

First district motorcycle scrambles races of the season will be staged Sunday afternoon at the 75-acre clubgrounds of the Western Reserve Flyers Motorcycle Club, located on the Middletown Rd., five miles north of Salem.

Practice starts at 12:30 p. m. and the first race at 2 p. m.

Scrambles races, imported to this country from England where motorcycling is a major sport for both riders and spectators, are held on an irregularly-shaped track laid out over natural terrain.

The Western Reserve course includes a pair of deep hollows, two adverse camber turns, a hairpin turn, other more gradual curves and a straightaway.

The track has been put in top shape for the Sunday event and the general track area has been cleared of trees and brush to afford uninterrupted views for spectators.

Club members are a widely dispersed lot, hailing from Salem, town, Wellsville and points between.

Clyde R. Bowman of RD 4, Salem is club president.

70 Cars to Compete At Canfield Track

Some 70 cars will be in the pits for a big tripleheader race program at Canfield Speedway tonight. Listed are some 30 modified "bombs", 20 late models and 20 foreign sports cars.

There will be three feature events on the nine-race program, 25 laps for the modifieds and sports cars and 20 for the late models.

Gates to the speedway open at 6:30 p. m. Time trials get under way at 7 and first event at 8:30 p. m.

Major League Stars

By The Associated Press
Pitching—Jim O'Toole, Reds, defeated the Cardinals 1-0 with a four-hitter, walking none and striking out three, and drove in the run with a two-out, sixth-inning single.

Hitting — Brooks Robinson, Orioles, 3-for-4 and batted in four runs, three with his second double in a seven-run fourth inning in 9-2 victory over the Indians.

NEW BOWLING LEADERS

DENVER (AP) — New leaders took over in Division I team bowling at the Woman's International Bowling Congress tournament Friday.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, jumped in front in Division I competition with a 2755 and Canton, Ohio, moved into the runnerup spot with a 2638. Las Vegas, Nev., the early leader, fell to third with 2632.

Hawkins Tells Folks Hurt Isn't Serious

New Waterford's Wynn Hawkins, who was injured Thursday night while pitching for the Cleveland Indians against Baltimore, called home yesterday and reported that his shoulder is still sore and stiff but that he should be ready to return to the mound in a few days.

Hawkins was hit on the shoulder by a line drive off the bat of Baltimore's Jim Gentile. The ball hit his shoulder with such force that it then glanced off his forehead and bounced into right field.

The ace hurler was forced to retire from the game but still picked up credit for his third straight victory of the season. He was taken to a Baltimore Hospital for x-rays and released early Friday morning.

Wynn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Hawkins of New Waterford. His grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Handie, also of New Waterford, talked to the young pitching sensation by phone yesterday.

KID DYNAMITE — Four-year-old Laurent Maret is probably the youngest jiu-jitsu expert anywhere. The youngster, wearing the traditional oriental robe, relaxes after a session in his home town of Nice, France.

Natural GOLF

No. 12---Forward Press

By JIMMY DEMARET

If you start without coordination, you'll perpetuate or magnify awkwardness throughout the swing.

With either goes all chance for hitting the ball solidly and sending it on the intended line of flight. There must be rhythm to the start of the swing which instinctively tells you it is off to a well-coordinated star. This is what the accomplished golfer calls "feel."

You cannot get by with a start which is mechanically perfect alone. The entire swing is motion.

A dead start, a mechanical start, leaves you barren of rhythm. It is physically easier to start action from a moving position rather than a stationary one. swinging a golf club is no exception. So develop a move which gets all the contributing parts of the body in motion together—before the backswing is begun. This coordinated movement is the forward press.

The intensity of the forward press depends upon the size of the art the club will travel and on the parts of the body involved. Putting, for example, involves you very little, the chip shot very little more.

Forward press for wood shot.

So it goes until you are involving yourself to the full extent of a swing's muscular demands.

NEXT: The requirements of the forward press.

Softball Opener Delayed Week

Team Entry Deadline Set Next Saturday

The opening of the softball season in Salem, scheduled for Monday night, has been postponed one week to give more teams a chance to enter the leagues.

Executive Secretary Dave Briskin has set 7 p. m. next Saturday as the deadline for entries. Team representatives will meet at the Memorial Building at the time to draw up a schedule. The season opener at Kelley Field is now set for Monday, May 16.

There are now five definite entries in Class AA and seven in Class A. Briskin said he would like to see eight teams in each league.

Particularly in trouble is the AA league which should have at least six teams to operate. Briskin says. An attempt will be made this week to organize another team. A sponsor has already been obtained.

Teams already officially entered in Class AA are Stepien's Tavern of Kensington, Deming Co., Herron Transfer, Ray's Beverage and Shaffer Ford.

The seven Class A entries are Italian-American Club, Lincoln Machine, Carl's Tavern of Lisbon, Theron's IGA of Columbiana, First Salem Corporation, Mark's Landing and Purity Dairy.

The following practice schedule has been set up at Kelley Field for next week:

Monday: Lincoln Machine and Shaffer Ford.

Tuesday: Italian-American Club

Wednesday: Deming Co. and Stepanic's Tavern.

Thursday: Herron Transfer and Theron's IGA.

Friday: Italian-American Club, First Salem Corporation and Deming Co.

All practice sessions start at 6 p. m.

Dems Propose Medical Plan

New Measure Goes Beyond Forand Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new medical care for the aged program under the Social Security system has been introduced by 16 Democratic senators including four presidential aspirants.

Democrats hope to make a strong campaign issue out of health care for the aged. The administration has introduced its own plan, which provides voluntary insurance programs partly offset by federal-state funds.

The new Democratic proposal, introduced Friday by Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.), in some ways goes beyond the bill sponsored by Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R.I.). The Forand bill is stuck in a House committee and has been denounced by President Eisenhower.

McNamara is chairman of a Senate subcommittee on aging. He estimated the bill's cost at $1,578,000,000 a year when it takes full effect. The administration bill proposes expenditure of $1,200,000,000 a year out of general funds, rather than through increased Social Security taxes.

Joining McNamara behind the bill were Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.), John F. Kennedy (Mass.), Wayne Morse (Ore.) and Stuart Symington (Mo.), all running for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming Friday completed a third day of explaining the administration plan to the House Ways and Means committee.

Afterwards he said Vice President Richard M. Nixon had not overtly helped work it out and opposes the Social Security idea. Democrats have attacked it as inadequate. On the other hand a conservative Republican, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, has called it socialized medicine.

A main Republican criticism of the Forand bill's approach is that it would not cover those who are not eligible for Social Security.

Seeking to meet this objection, the McNamara bill would cover 11,300,000 over 65 on Social Security, 1,700,000 on public assistance rolls and 1,800,000 others of retired age. Most of the cost would be met through raising the Social Security tax 1/4 per cent each on employer and employee, the same as provided in the Forand bill. A 3/4 per cent tax would be placed on self-employed persons.

To take care of persons not under Social Security, the McNamara bill would provide 90 days of hospital care a year, or 180 days in a nursing home, or 240 days of supervised care at home, plus diagnostic outpatient service including laboratory tests and X-rays, and part of the cost of drugs.

In the hospitalization and drug provisions, it goes beyond the Forand bill. But it does not provide surgical expenses as does the Forand bill.

DIES IN TRUCK MISHAP

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—Rudolph Pore, 58, of Rt. 1, Williamstown, was killed Friday when a truck rammed the rear of his tractor on U.S. 30-North five miles west of Williamstown, officials said.

THEIR DAY — Antony Armstrong-Jones and his wife, Princess Margaret, wave to a quarter-million persons gathered outside Buckingham Palace to greet them after their marriage. One open-mouthed onlooker is Virginia Fitzroy, 6, left, a member of the wedding party.

Meany Raps Industry's Team Choice

Labor-Management 'Summit' Conferences Floundering

WASHINGTON (AP) — The labor-management "summit" conferences initiated by President Eisenhower apparently are floundering even before they get started.

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO said it is up to Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell to get arrangements straightened out.

Labor union chiefs said industry's choice of a team for an initial planning session seemed to forebode the whole idea. A spokesman for the National Assn. of Manufacturers retorted that the labor chiefs can't expect to dictate management's representatives.

"If the conferences are torpedoed it won't be our fault," said an NAM spokesman in New York. "Our people are ready and willing to talk."

Top AFL-CIO leaders said the industry-selected conferees were

"a slap in the face to President Eisenhower." Meany had named himself, United Auto Union President Walter Reuther and Rail Union leader George Harrison as labor's trio of conferees.

Eisenhower asked each side to name three men to plan an agenda and other arrangements for a series of meetings that would seek understandings to smooth labor-management relations, spur economic growth and help insure price stability, among other objectives.

Eisenhower specified the management representatives should be presidents or board chairmen of firms having collective bargaining agreements with AFL-CIO unions.

The NAM designated Presidents William J. Grebe, Racine, Wis., of the J. I. Case farm equipment manufacturing company; L. A. Peterson, Yonkers, N.Y., of the Otis Elevator Co., and Robert W. Stoddard, Worcester, Mass., Wyman-Gordon Co.

The labor unionists complained two Case company plants have been struck by Reuther's Auto Workers Union for several months. They questioned the existence of collective bargaining agreements under those circumstances.

The labor men said the NAM designated trio represents a lower management echelon than the heads of General Motors, U.S. Steel and similar firms whom they had expected to be designated.

A crowning blow, they said, was that President Rudolph Bannow of the NAM indicated he expected to attend. The AFL-CIO chiefs said this would not only mean a fourth management representative but one also whose firm lacks AFL-CIO bargaining agreements.

MOTORIST IS FINED

LISBON — Woodrow W. Morrow, 47, of Columbiana RD 2, was fined $5 and costs Friday by County Judge James L. MacDonald when he pleaded guilty to failing to stop within the assured clear distance ahead. He was cited by the State Highway patrol.

County School Water Safety Program Set

A water safety program sponsored by the Columbiana County rural school system will be presented Monday, May 16, at Mark's Landing at Guilford Lake.

Approximately 570 junior and senior students from the four county high schools will be present, County School Supt. James L. McBride said.

Rufus L. Lide, Columbiana County game warden, has scheduled the following program for the schools: Proper way to get in and out of small boats, importance of boat capacity, legal safety requirements, traffic rules and courtesy, what to do if a boat capsizes, life saving and mouth to mouth resuscitation and pleasures and dangers of skin diving and water skiing.

The U.S. Power Squadron, the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary of Youngstown and the State Highway Patrol will provide skin diving experts. An Alliance boat manufacturing firm will furnish the watercraft, Lide said.

Supt. McBride said he feels it is the responsibility of schools to see that students get an education in water safety.

The schedules for the four schools are as follows: 9:15 to 10:30 a.m., United Local Juniors and seniors and Fairfield-Waterford seniors; 10:30 to 11:45 a.m., Beaver Local Juniors and seniors; 1:30 to 2:45 p.m., Fairfield-Waterford juniors and southern Local juniors and seniors.

According to state school officials, this is the first county sponsoring this type of program. A committee of teachers and lay people will be asked to compile water safety material for use in the curriculum of county schools, McBride said.
